

Steinway Artist Harry Nowakowski-Fox is one of the most notable British Pianists of his generation. He has rapidly established an exciting career as a soloist, chamber musician and recording artist, having performed internationally at concerts, competitions and chamber music festivals in Austria, France, Greece, Italy, Malta, Spain, Switzerland the UK and the United States. Performances at prestigious London venues include St Martins in the Fields, Victoria and Albert Museum, Fairfield Halls, Steinway Hall and Wigmore Hall. In 2016 he gave his debut recital in Moscow performing works by Bach, Schumann & Chopin.

Major successes and awards so far have included; a live broadcast from New York's Manhattan School of music for the Singapore Digital Media Festival, special prize at London's Jaques Samuel Intercollegiate Piano Competition, special prize at the Valletta International Piano Competition, 1st Prize in the concerto class at the Marlow Music Festival, 1st Prize winner of the prestigious Derek Butler London prize held at the Wigmore Hall & Special Prize at the Valletta International Piano Competition & Grand Prize winner at the Windsor International Piano Competition.

As a recording artist his discography includes both Solo and chamber works. In 2016 Harry signed a recording contract with the label KNS Classical and released his first solo recording, an all Schumann disc. Since then he has produced a Piano/Cello duo CD with his wife in 2019 which is a recording of Sonatas by Schubert, Brahms and Schnittke.

Harry's latest album release is a recording of Bach's "Goldberg" Variations on the label Grand Empirical in Autumn 2020. A full film of the performance was released in January 2021 and is available to watch online.